All Adds will be in Black and White. These adds will be placed in our publication called the "Littlestown's Good Ole Days Festival News", which will be handed out during the two weeks before and the week of Good Ole Days as well as during the parade on Thursday evening and on Saturday at the Festival. This publication will contain information about what is happening during the week of the festival, historic facts about Littlestown area and layout of where different things will be located.
